“The believers in their mutual love, mercy and sympathy are just like one body. When one of the limbs suffers, the whole body responds to it with sleeplessness and fever.”

Charity Week for Orphans and Needy Children is a volunteer-run campaign of Islamic Relief.

The ultimate vision of Charity Week is to become a vehicle to inspire Muslim students to become active, socially engaged and united upon Islam.

A SENSE OF MISSION GOES FURTHER THAN AMBITION

A ssalaamu alaikum and welcome to the 2016 Annual Report.

Everyone agrees that this year there was something special in the air. We couldn't quite put our finger on it. Could it be the return of Australia after 9 years? Or was it the inspirational theme of NASA and space? Or maybe it was the restructuring that allowed us to deliver institutional support in a more personalised way?

Perhaps it was all of these or something else.

One thing is for certain though, despite all the changes, we remained committed to our vision of unity more than ever. We saw that in a million different ways throughout the year - and in the record breaking total at the end of the International Annual Dinner in London.

As the rest of the Muslim world collapses ever further into darkness, we pray that we are the stars that will illuminate the darkness and guide our people towards the path of unity.

Six countries, hundreds of institutions, thousands of volunteers and more than a million pounds, dollars, euros and riyals later, subhanAllah - we're just getting started.

The training team this year faced a daunting challenge - how do you train teams across the world with radically different levels of experience and very different conditions of operation... and each in a different time zone! This is how we attempted to do so. The ingredients for a training programme are here, the next step will be to formalise it to a greater extent.

RESOURCE DISTRIBUTION

WHAT DID WE USE TO DELIVER CHARITY WEEK?

Across the world, the Charity Week brand is visible each year through our posters, T-shirts, buckets and pennyboxes. This unity of appearance underpins the unity of purpose. As more countries have become involved, the need to systemise this huge logistical undertaking has increased. We are actively taking steps towards a more sustainable system of distribution for each country.

AROUND THE WORLD

SOME SHORT STORIES FROM CHARITY WEEK ACROSS THE GLOBE

AUSTRALIA

BEST BAKE SALE, EVER

Charity Week launched on the other side of the world and, like everywhere, they were feeling the cake-love. To quote: 'Just to remind everyone, this is our FIRST Charity Week...not bad, eh? We Australians are just naturally talented.'

QATAR

HOME FROM HOME

'SubhanAllah today I met a graduate student who is studying Islamic studies. He had a British accent and I asked him 'where are you from?' just to confirm he was from the UK.

He confirmed that he was. Then I asked him about Charity Week and he said he was part of it in London and he didn't know it was in Qatar as well! It just amazes me how big our Charity Week family is.'

GERMANY

NEVER GIVE UP

Hamburg had planned large-scale events but needed sponsorship. The Hamburg representative decided to visit shop after shop, got rejection after rejection, until one restaurant (which she almost didn't even enter): proceeded to hand her €1000 in cash.

This, summed with the other sponsorship money that Hamburg city raised, came to almost as much as the entirety of Germany's sponsorship last year.

CANADA

INFECTIOUS ENERGY

Charity Week Canada kept a running total of their institutions' fundraising. It was impressive to see a school charity club of The Islamic Foundation of Toronto consistently ranked in the top 3 - with kids and staff alike getting stuck in and live tweeting it all.

The hype seemed to get to Calgary Muslim Students' Association especially, they made a video claiming to be the founders of Charity Week and announced a total of '100 thousand million dollars'. Maybe next year folks...

USA

DO YOUR HOMEWORK

A Houston student went to a bakery in town to see if they'd donate any goods for Charity Week. The girl at the counter was a new Muslim who watched the CW trailer and was sold! That bakery usually doesn't give away cupcakes, but the girl convinced her boss to give 16 boxes.

Back on campus, a student shared the CW trailer in class. The professor cancelled the next assignment and the grade is now based on volunteering for Charity Week.

BUDGET & EXPENDITURE

OUR BUDGET IS OUR AMANAH, OUR TRUST

Each country participating in Charity Week is required to submit an accurate budget to help maintain a sensible expenditure for the growing project. Budgets are provided by Islamic Relief offices worldwide and Reach Out To Asia (Qatar). The budget is not taken away from funds raised which allows us to spend 100% on projects helping orphans and needy children.

SOCIAL MEDIA

CHARITY WEEK @charityweek

Charity Week is still currently growing our social media presence but it is proving to be slower than expected. Our social media stats reflect this, but it is an opportunity we aim to capitalise on. Our most active social media reaches are Snapchat and Facebook.

This year saw us finally end a five year struggle to gain ownership of www.charityweek.com which was owned by a Middle Eastern Billionaire. After non-stop persistence by the International Director we secured the domain. A new look website was created with the help of Computan from Canada.

Campaigns

One Platform @New for 2016

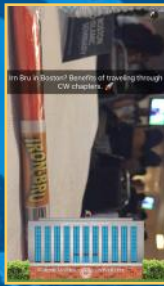

This year, we created @CharityWeek accounts on all platforms to act as the main hub for international social media. Country accounts then feed from these.

Snapchat @Daily Stories

Snapchat was better utilised in 2016 to get a more global feel, with many events being made into daily stories. Watching someone Snapchat from Qatar University followed by an auction in Liverpool and then a cake stall in Texas gave everyone a little taste of the unity we are working towards.

SNAPCHAT GEOFILTERS

Snapchat can truly capture the buzz of events as they happen and Charity Week made full use of its international reach with geofilters spreading across the globe.

TV APPEAL

On October 29th 2016, Charity Week had its longest dedicated live TV appeal on Islam Channel. Highlights included videos from projects that Charity Week had helped fund, as well as the Great Charity Week Bake Off finals live on air. King's College London also did their own Charity Week Show to fundraise on Channel 5.

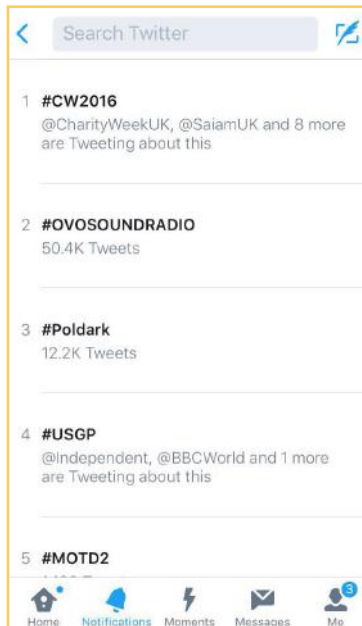

FACEBOOK LIVE

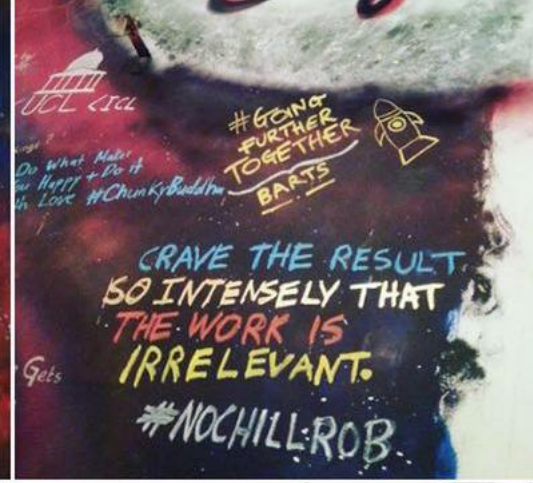

CW2016 saw Charity Week use Facebook live to help even the most distant members of the family get involved. People from across the world were tuning in to auctions in Liverpool and speeches from New York!

TWITTER STORM

Twitter was a bustling scene of activity throughout Charity Week, culminating on the 24th of October 2016, when #CW2016 was trending across Twitter.

FUNDRAISING & FUN-RAISING

Methods of fundraising across the world varied from traditional cake sales to a travelling smoothie service. Some highlights included The Crepe Shop, a cafe in East London, which devoted a whole wall to creating a space-themed Charity Week mural. Volunteers from across the region visited to leave their mark and enjoy special CW Crepes - with proceeds going to the cause! There were also a remarkable number of sponsored walks, hikes and climbs in areas of spectacular natural beauty.

COMPARING 2015 & 2016

PROPORTIONS OF TOTAL RAISED BY COUNTRY

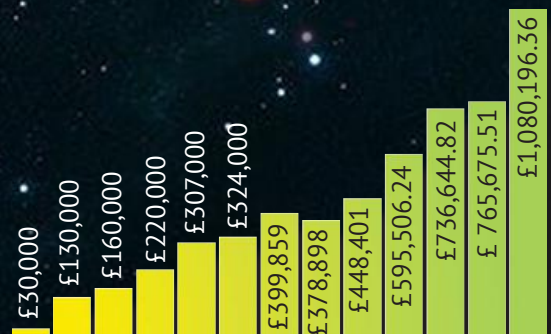

DONATION STREAMS

The process of banking funds raised for Charity Week has become more regulated to avoid discrepancies. It's not easy tracking every penny deposited in hundreds of institutions spread over 6 countries, each with their own banking system. The fact that that we're able to do this, down to accounting for cents and pennies, is a testament to the degree of professionalism rarely seen in a voluntary organisation. This is only possible through uniting together as one team across borders and regions.

CHARITY WEEK TOTALS SINCE 2004

THE GIFT OF UNITY

SOME SHORT STORIES OF HOW WE'VE WORKED TOGETHER

ON THE TRAIN

On the train to the International Annual Dinner (IAD), three UK Midlands CW members had to cut out props for the dinner. They only had two hours or so to cut around 200 prop cards. Between the three of them they made slow progress, but in the last 10 minutes, when a few sheets still remained, their hands were aching. At that point a lady sitting opposite them on the table volunteered to cut the rest out. She had been hearing about the IAD and wanted to finish their work, proving the power of subtle da'wah!

JUMUAH MUBARAK

"After collecting Jumu'ah donations at our local Leicester masjid we were waiting for a taxi back to De Montfort University outside. Just then, the masjid owner came outside and gave the masjid's separate jumu'ah collection to us too! Alhamdulillah. It wasn't even asked for."

A HELPING HAND

King's College London donated on the pages of other competing institutions to motivate and inspire their brothers and sisters - and won the Best Display of Unity in the World award!

QUALITY BRINGS QUANTITY

South Falmouth and Exeter Islamic Societies have such few Muslims that they have a non-Muslim on their committee. They got the whole Student Union on board to help them fundraise for Charity Week 2016.

A TALE OF NEW CITIES

Two students who had nothing to do with Charity Week drove 400km to the Annual Dinner in Germany just to learn more about the growing project. They ended up loving it, inviting some Charity Weekers for tea and coffee afterwards. They're looking to bring Charity Week to their city in 2017...

HOLD ON TIGHT TO THE ROPE OF ALLAH

In 2015, Woodhouse College Islamic Society in North London wanted to take part in Charity Week, but were not permitted by their school. Instead of giving up, the brothers and sisters at Woodhouse did something amazing. They donated £10.

Why did they bother to donate that small amount? They wanted to show that they had tried and would not give up.

In 2016, the school didn't let them organise anything in the school again, but University College London stepped in and booked a large theatre for them.

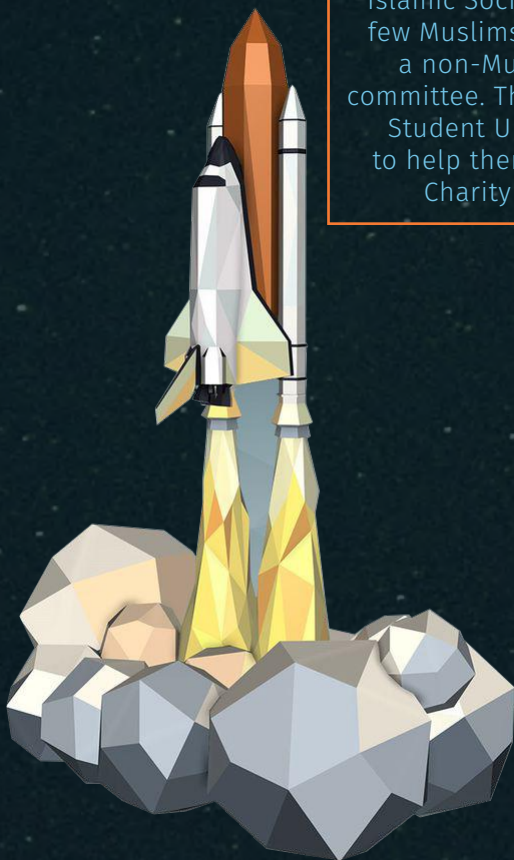

They raised more than £3000 in that room, including selling a cake for £1000.

MANY HANDS MAKE LIGHT WORK

The day before IAD, some members of the London team were packing sweet cones in one corner of London, and others were in the IR office making centrepieces for the dinner. The unity meant they were able to prepare the centrepieces and over 500 sweet cones in a matter of hours!

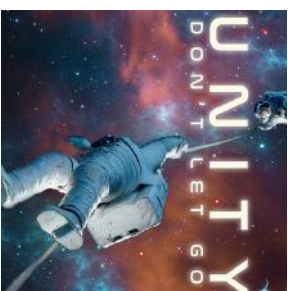

WE ARE A FORTUNATE PEOPLE

A volunteer climbed a mountain, dedicating it to his cousin who passed away a few weeks before. "She was not fortunate enough to have the chance to take risks and enjoy her life, so I wanted to do this for her. May Allah grant her the highest place in jannah.."

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

The process that we go through to fund projects is unique. It aims to find the perfect balance between Emergency projects and Sustainable projects. It aims to set a balance between projects that are in the news and those that are equally deserving, but never make the limelight. We also aim to have a variety of projects with some focusing on healthcare, others on education and still others on providing food and water.

The only way to have to this ideal range of projects funded is through working together. We don't have to choose between one and another; we can help them all.

PROJECT: SYRIA

ALEPPO GOVERNATE / IDLIB / HAMA
APPROX. £303,000, HELPING APPROX. 130,000 CHILDREN

The situation of the children of Syria does not need to be explained here. They are in urgent need of emergency healthcare. Islamic Relief is one of the few Muslim charities operating inside and outside Syria all year round. The advantage of uniting together and working pro-actively became apparent with regards to this project. As Aleppo fell and the Muslim world began raising money to help the refugees streaming out and children who were injured - work had already started on seven Charity Week funded Paediatric health centres. These health centres provided medication, free medical care and equipment to help these suffering children.

PROJECT: BANGLADESH

KAUNIA UPAZILA, RANGPUR DISTRICT & OTHERS
APPROX £302,000 BENEFITTING APPROXIMATELY 275 ORPHAN CHILDREN & OVER
20,000 NEEDY CHILDREN INDIRECTLY

This innovative project is likely to revolutionise orphan sponsorship. Rather than a traditional handout for life, this project aims to make the orphans and their families self-sufficient within 3-4 years. During this period, the orphan children will get 3 meals a day and enrolment in school. Their families will also get a monthly amount to help them set up an enterprise. The evidence from this project has shown that some orphan families end up employing others!

PROJECT: PALESTINE

GAZA & PALESTINIAN REFUGEES
APPROX £203,000

We all know that the siege of Gaza has had a terrible impact on the children there. There is a greater than 60% unemployment rate in these children and many drop out of school as they have little hope of getting a career. This project aims to refurbish the Vocational Training centres, furnishing them with equipment and providing uniforms. This would have been amazing enough, but the project goes one crucial step further. We are creating a unified syllabus and structure of Vocational Training across the whole of Gaza, thereby improving standards and allowing students to transfer between colleges and vocations.

Some of the funds will also go towards a multi-million dollar project aimed at enhancing non-formal education for Palestinian youth. Using sports as a means to motivate often despondent young people, the programme will provide access to a green sports facility with training. There will also be a deepening of the curriculum to link graduates to job opportunities through employability skills and job placement services.

PROJECT: REFUGEES / FOSTER CHILDREN

EUROPE / CALAIS / JORDAN / LEBANON
APPROX £142,400

This project aims to help connect unaccompanied child refugees who are currently trapped travelling through Europe with any relatives who live in the UK. Case workers will be present in Europe including Greece and Calais to help identify these children and take up their plight. There are also many Muslim children who are in need of foster care, but there are not enough Muslim families that undertake fostering. This project aims to increase the number of Muslim families that foster through educational events, lectures and leaflets. It also aims to provide Non-Muslim families that are fostering Muslim children with information and support on how to raise these children as Muslims.

PROJECT: ONE-TO-ONE ORPHAN SPONSORSHIP

GAZA / PAKISTAN
APPROX £101,000 129 ORPHANS

One of the great things about Charity Week is that we truly focus on what is best for the children we are helping. In 2005 we took on the sponsorship of 110 orphans from the war in Gaza and in 2006 we did the same for 100 orphans from the South East Asia Earthquake in Pakistan. It has been 10 years and although there have been many more tragedies and most people may have forgotten about those tragedies, but we are still sponsoring those orphans. And we will continue to do so until they are on their own two feet. This is the beauty of being part of a sustainable long term project. We are here for the long term inshaAllah. Charity Week remains one of, if not the largest, funder of one-to-one orphan sponsorships in Islamic Relief.

THE FUTURE IS ALREADY HERE WE JUST NEED TO SHARE IT

There is so much that we can learn by looking into space. The planets and the way they rotate, the vastness of universe and the beauty of the constellations. Reflecting on all this makes even the most cynical person understand that they must have been put there for a reason.

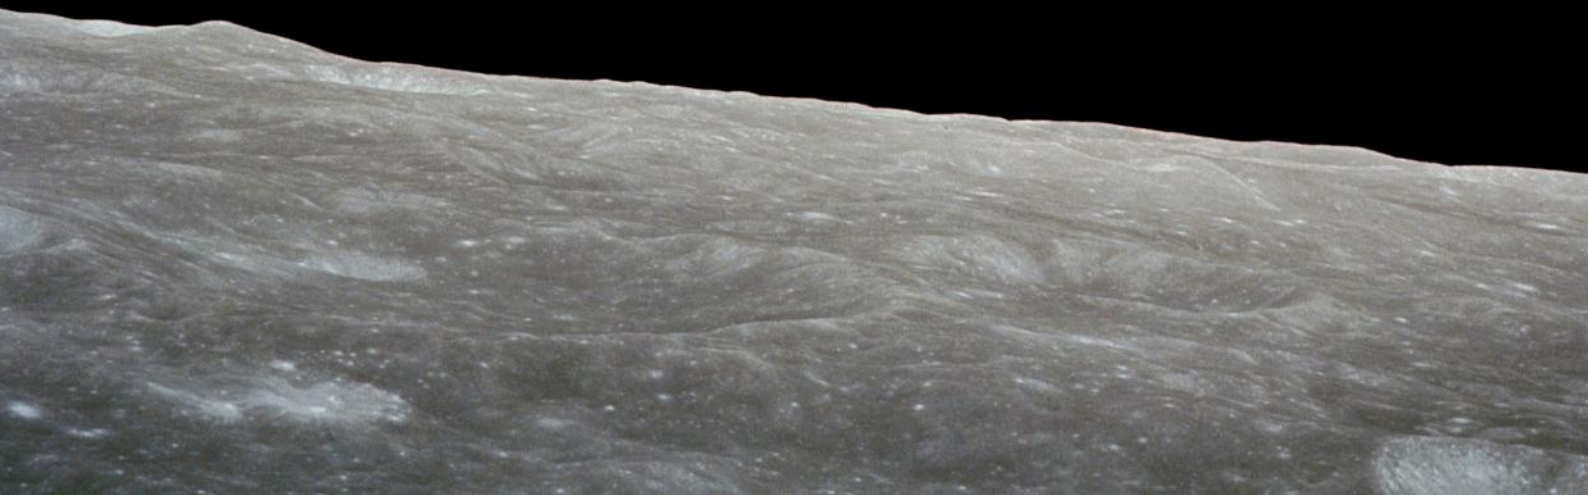

The stars have been put in the sky to light the way during the darkest of nights. In these turbulent times, Charity Week seeks to unite the stars so we can all go further together.

Wassalaamu alaikum wa rahmatullah wa barakatuhu

“And no soul knows what has been hidden for them of comfort for eyes as reward for what they used to do.”

(Qur'an 32:17)

May Allah accept it from us,
Ameen.
